

Findings

I used `htmltest.email` to send my email campaign to multiple email clients. Since this website only allowed pasting the raw HTML directly into the browser, I needed to first replace all of the relative paths to the images with direct URLs to the GitHub-hosted images.

The live preview that this website provides shows that the email campaign generally renders well and looks exactly as expected from running the site locally. Rendering on the different email clients, however, shows different results.

Live Preview:

1) Gmail

On Gmail, none of the animations work. The email generally appears exactly as in the live preview, with one notable exception: the panels do not work, and the text that is meant to appear on toggle does not show up at all; on hover over the labels, the cursor does not change to a pointer (but it does turn to a pointer for the button). All links work and images appear as in the live preview. None of the footer links are underlined. According to caniemail.com, this is because Gmail does not support `:checked` and `keyframes`.

Green Thumb | Welcome Inbox x

≡⁺ Summarize this email

 test@htmltest.email

Sun Water Soil Fertilizers

You can also schedule a consultation with one of our gardeners if you want more guidance on the best plant selection for you, which is a mix of the time you are willing to put in, the location of your home, and your harvest desires. We are happy to share any and all information you need to make gardening an easy and enjoyable activity for you.

Misconceptions

Contrary to popular belief, more water is not always better. Yes, water is absolutely necessary for your plant to grow and photosynthesize. However, too much water can suffocate or rot your roots, and even lead to less nutrient absorption overall. How do you know if this is a problem? Look for yellow or droopy leaves.

Another common misconception is the direct opposite: that drought-tolerant plants never need water. Although drought-tolerant plants can last longer periods without water, they still require semi-regular watering until they are well-established.

More fertilizer is not always better. It is possible to 'over' care for your plants, and this is a prime example. Too much fertilizer can stunt plant growth and burn roots.

Our Journey

Green Thumb started as an initiative to make growing more accessible for the community. We offer a wide selection of plants, ranging from tropical fruits to colorful vegetables to resilient shrubs. We know that growing straight from seed can be an intimidating task for many. That's why our nursery holds plants of various ages grown by experts, so you can take what you want with a headstart.

What makes Green Thumb unique from other plant nurseries? Nationwide-access. We offer plant delivery services to places all over the United States. Whether you are in sunny California or vibrant New York, Green Thumb will ship quality plants to you with detailed guides for care.

Growing plants doesn't have to be such a daunting task. With our help, anyone can get started with ease. Simply browse our website to determine the best plants for your area, and let us know the best time to deliver. Or, if you live close by, stop by and take a look in-person to check out our nursery.

Gardening is a peaceful and satisfying activity. It can help lower your stress and even help you save money on weekly groceries. We offer a 1-year return policy, so you can grow without any stakes attached. Just spend some quality time outdoors and enjoy your new garden.

Fruits

Our fruit selection includes trees like oranges, peaches, nectarines, figs, apples, and even guava. For space-constrained regions, we also offer dwarf varieties that reach up to 6 feet tall. We have blueberries, raspberries, strawberries, and grapes, and our more resilient plants include dragon fruit and prickly pear cactus.

Vegetables

Prefer savory over sweet? Our vegetable varieties are just as diverse as our fruit selection. Pick tomatoes, jalapenos, chilis, eggplant, cucumber, lettuce, cabbage, and cauliflower straight from the comfort of your own home. There's nothing more satisfying than filling a basket with your harvest and preparing the meals you love with the objects of your labor.

Shrubs

Shrubs can help transform the look of your home, offering beautiful framing and landscaping opportunities to elevate your lawn. Plant flowers like lilacs and shrubs for a homey and elegant feel. Or take a more relaxed approach with plants like juniper and bluebeard, which are low maintenance and drought-tolerant.

Shop Plants

Questions

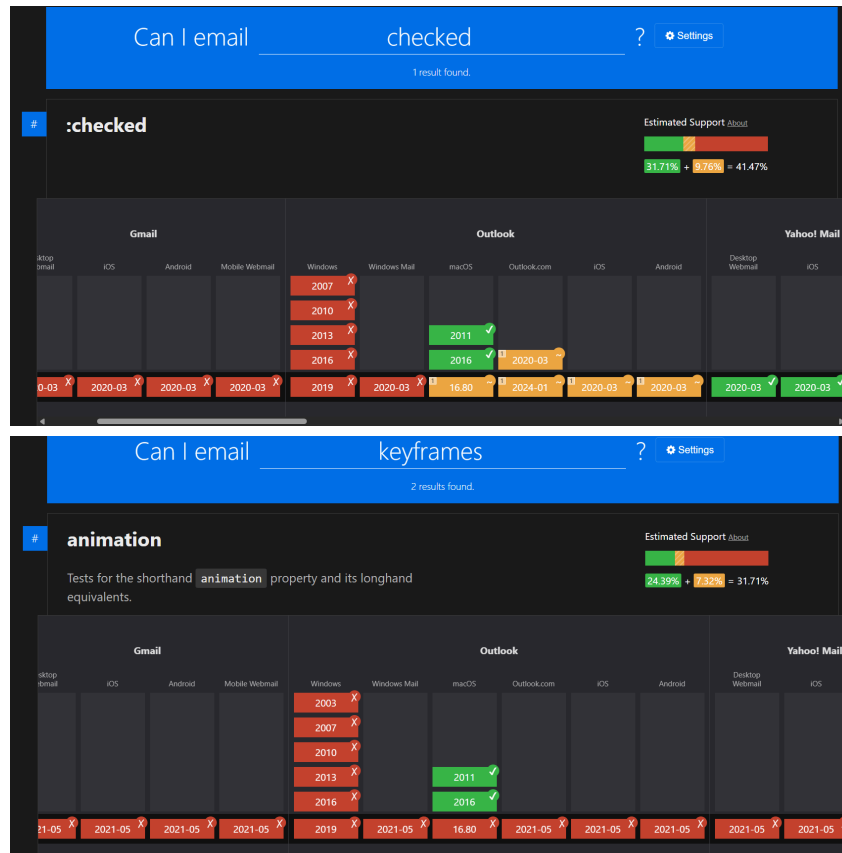

Have more questions? We've been there. Starting a garden can feel overwhelming at times. Feel free to call us anytime from 9:00 AM to 7:00 PM PST at 818-000-0000 to ask for tips and guidance for plant care. Our skilled gardeners are experts in plant care and love to share the experience they have amassed to help you start your own garden. No question is too big or too small, and we are happy to help in any way we can.

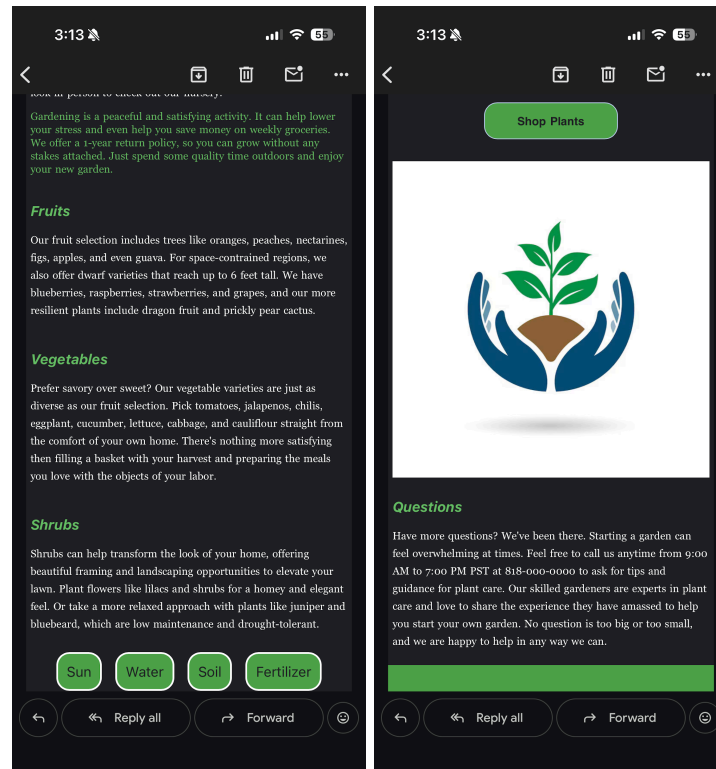

12234 Imaginary St, Los Angeles, CA, 90001

Our Website

Unsubscribe

On mobile, the same behavior as on desktop is shown; the desired stacking behavior also appears.

2) Yahoo

On Yahoo, the email appears exactly as in the live preview. However, none of the animations work, and I am unable to toggle from one panel to the next (I can see only the text for panel 1). All links do work, but none of the footer links retain their underline. Hover behavior (e.g. cursor changing to pointer on the panel labels) works as expected. According to caniemail.com, this is because Yahoo has support for :hover and :checked but not animation.

Green Thumb | Welcome

test@htmltest.email
To: me, and 2 others · Tue, Sep 22 at 12:03 AM

Sun Water Soil Fertilizer

Different plants have different sunlight needs. Some prefer full sun, others partial, and some thrive in a mix of the two. Carefully review the plant care guide provided with each plant purchase to determine the best location within your home for your new plant. This is one of the most important tasks you must do as a new gardener.

Welcome to Green Thumb!

Our Journey

Green Thumb started as an initiative to make growing more accessible for the community. We offer a wide selection of plants, ranging from tropical fruits to colorful vegetables to resilient shrubs. We know that growing straight from seed can be an intimidating task for many. That's why our nursery holds plants of various ages grown by experts, so you can take what you want with a headstart.

What makes Green Thumb unique from other plant nurseries? Nationwide-access. We offer plant delivery services to places all over the United States. Whether you are in sunny California or vibrant New York, Green Thumb will ship quality plants to you with detailed guides for care.

Growing plants doesn't have to be such a daunting task. With our help, anyone can get started with ease. Simply browse our website to determine the best plants for your area, and let us know the best time to deliver. Or, if you live close by, stop by and take a look in-person to check out our nursery.

Gardening is a peaceful and satisfying activity. It can help lower your stress and even help you save money on weekly groceries. We offer a 1-year return policy, so you can grow without any stakes attached. Just spend some quality time outdoors and enjoy your new garden.

Fruits

Our fruit selection includes trees like oranges, peaches, nectarines, figs, apples, and even guava. For space-constrained regions, we also offer dwarf varieties that reach up to 6 feet tall. We have blueberries, raspberries, strawberries, and grapes, and our more resilient plants include dragon fruit and prickly pear cactus.

Vegetables

Prefer savory over sweet? Our vegetable varieties are just as diverse as our fruit selection. Pick tomatoes, jalapenos, chilis, eggplant, cucumber, lettuce, cabbage, and cauliflower straight from the comfort of your own home. There's nothing more satisfying than filling a basket with your harvest and preparing the meals you love with the objects of your labor.

Shrubs

Shrubs can help transform the look of your home, offering beautiful framing and landscaping opportunities to elevate your lawn. Plant flowers like lilacs and shrubs for a homey and elegant feel. Or take a more relaxed approach with plants like juniper and bluebeard, which are low maintenance and drought-tolerant.

Important Plant Care Steps

Each of our plants comes with detailed guides on how best to care for them. This includes information about sunlight and water needs, which can be extremely helpful for first-time growers. Remember, patience is key. Gardening is a long process, but the results are absolutely worth it. With regular care, most plants become low-maintenance, so this does not have to be an overly involved hobby unless you want it to be.

You can also schedule a consultation with one of our gardeners if you want more guidance on the best plant selection for you, which is a mix of the time you are willing to put in, the location of your home, and your harvest desires. We are happy to share any and all information you need to make gardening an easy and enjoyable activity for you.

Misconceptions

Contrary to popular belief, more water is not always better. Yes, water is absolutely necessary for your plant to grow and photosynthesize. However, too much water can suffocate or rot your roots, and even lead to less nutrient absorption overall. How do you know if this is a problem? Look for yellow or droopy leaves.

Another common misconception is the direct opposite: that drought-tolerant plants never need water. Although drought-tolerant plants can last longer periods without water, they still require semi-regular watering until they are well-established.

More fertilizer is not always better. It is possible to 'over' care for your plants, and this is a prime example. Too much fertilizer can stunt plant growth and burn roots.

Shop Plants

Questions

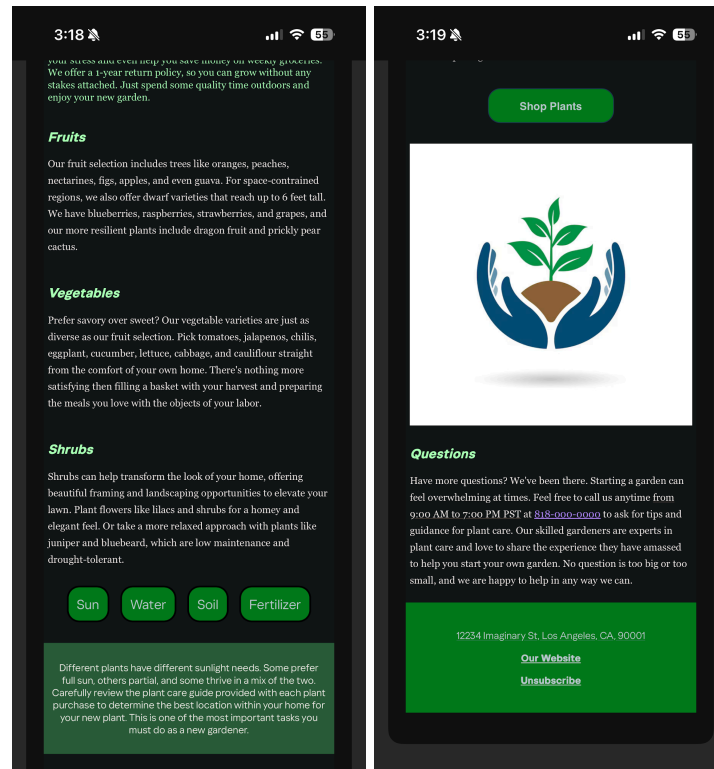

Have more questions? We've been there. Starting a garden can feel overwhelming at times. Feel free to call us anytime from 9:00 AM to 7:00 PM PST at 818-000-0000 to ask for tips and guidance for plant care. Our skilled gardeners are experts in plant care and love to share the experience they have amassed to help you start your own garden. No question is too big or too small, and we are happy to help in any way we can.

12234 Imaginary St, Los Angeles, CA, 90001

Our Website

Unsubscribe

On mobile, it is the same behavior as above, except with the desired stacking behavior and with the desired link-underline.

3) Outlook

On Outlook, the email campaign again looks very similar to the live preview. All links work and are underlined as desired. However, the panels are already auto-expanded rather than only showing the checked one, and the related labels have lost their styling and appear as plain text. The button does not change color on hover. According to caniemail.com, this is because Outlook does not support animations, or :checked or :hover on non-type selectors.

Our Journey

Green Thumb started as an initiative to make growing more accessible for the community. We offer a wide selection of plants, ranging from tropical fruits to colorful vegetables to resilient shrubs. We know that growing straight from seed can be an intimidating task for many. That's why our nursery holds plants of various ages grown by experts, so you can take what you want with a headstart.

What makes Green Thumb unique from other plant nurseries? Nationwide-access. We offer plant delivery services to places all over the United States. Whether you are in sunny California or vibrant New York, Green Thumb will ship quality plants to you with detailed guides for care.

Growing plants doesn't have to be such a daunting task. With our help, anyone can get started with ease. Simply browse our website to determine the best plants for your area, and let us know the best time to deliver. Or, if you live close by, stop by and take a look in-person to check out our nursery.

Gardening is a peaceful and satisfying activity. It can help lower your stress and even help you save money on weekly groceries. We offer a 1-year return policy, so you can grow without any stakes attached. Just spend some quality time outdoors and enjoy your new garden.

Fruits

Our fruit selection includes trees like oranges, peaches, nectarines, figs, apples, and even guava. For space-constrained regions, we also offer dwarf varieties that reach up to 6 feet tall. We have blueberries, raspberries, strawberries, and grapes, and our more resilient plants include dragon fruit and prickly pear cactus.

Vegetables

Prefer savory over sweet? Our vegetable varieties are just as diverse as our fruit selection. Pick tomatoes, jalapenos, chilis, eggplant, cucumber, lettuce, cabbage, and cauliflower straight from the comfort of your own home. There's nothing more satisfying than filling a basket with your harvest and preparing the meals you love with the objects of your labor.

Shrubs

Shrubs can help transform the look of your home, offering beautiful framing and landscaping opportunities to elevate your lawn. Plant flowers like lilacs and shrubs for a homey and elegant feel. Or take a more relaxed approach with plants like juniper and bluebeard, which are low maintenance and drought-tolerant.

Questions

Have more questions? We've been there. Starting a garden can feel overwhelming at times. Feel free to call us anytime from 9:00 AM to 7:00 PM PST at 818-000-0000 to ask for tips and guidance for plant care. Our skilled gardeners are experts in plant care and love to share the experience they have amassed to help you start your own garden. No question is too big or too small, and we are happy to help in any way we can.

Different plants have different sunlight needs. Some prefer full sun, others partial, and some thrive in a mix of the two. Carefully review the plant care guide provided with each plant purchase to determine the best location within your home for your new plant. This is one of the most important tasks you must do as a new gardener.

Important Plant Care Steps

Each of our plants comes with detailed guides on how best to care for them. This includes information about sunlight and water needs, which can be extremely helpful for first-time growers. Remember, patience is key. Gardening is a long process, but the results are absolutely worth it. With regular care, most plants become low-maintenance, so this does not have to be an overly involved hobby unless you want it to be.

You can also schedule a consultation with one of our gardeners if you want more guidance on the best plant selection for you, which is a mix of the time you are willing to put in, the location of your home, and your harvest desires. We are happy to share any and all information you need to make gardening an easy and enjoyable activity for you.

Misconceptions

Contrary to popular belief, more water is not always better. Yes, water is absolutely necessary for your plant to grow and photosynthesize. However, too much water can suffocate or rot your roots, and even lead to less nutrient absorption overall. How do you know if this is a problem? Look for yellow or droopy leaves.

Another common misconception is the direct opposite: that drought-tolerant plants never need water. Although drought-tolerant plants can last longer periods without water, they still require semi-regular watering until they are well-established.

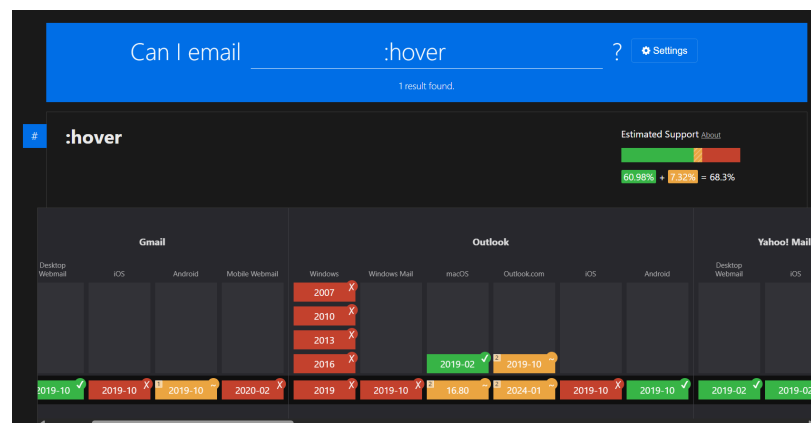

More fertilizer is not always better. It is possible to 'over' care for your plants, and this is a prime example. Too much fertilizer can stunt plant growth and burn roots.

Shop Plants

12234 Imaginary St. Los Angeles, CA, 90001

Our Website

Unsubscribe

On mobile, it is the same behavior as above, except with the desired stacking behavior.

